I think that all of these facts are correct because the numbers are related

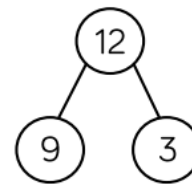

Ron disagrees.

Who is correct? Can you prove it?

Which of the representations are equivalent to the bar model?

Watch 'A Christian Baptism' parts 1 and 2.

A family is shown preparing food for a baptism celebration, with the narration provided by the baby's older brother. In the church, the vicar explains that when the baby is baptised, he becomes part of God's family and can listen to stories about Jesus in the Bible. The vicar also explains that baptism is a new beginning and the sign of the cross shows that the baby is special to God.
